What is physical activity?

Physical activity is moving your body and releasing energy.

3 Types of Physical Activity

1 Moderate physical activity: you can talk but not sing

2 Vigorous physical activity: you need to pause to catch your breath before talking

3 Day to day physical activities: activities you do on the regular

Why should you move your body?

To build strong muscles & bones

To improve posture, balance & flexibility

To improve mood & mental health!

Tips to Get Active

Walk to school, the library, or the park with an adult

Choose activities you love doing!

Help clean the house

Join a team at school or in your neighbourhood

Try to fit in physical activity where you can!

Have fun playing games and activities with your family and friends!

Dance to your favourite song!

Decrease screen time to 2 hours every day for non-educational purposes

Stay Hydrated!

Benefits for our health

We stay hydrated throughout the day

Delivers nutrients and oxygen around our body

Helps in digestion of food and removing waste

Controls our body temperature

Keeps us cool and is best to quench our thirst

Tips to increase your water intake

Make water your drink of choice, most often

Eat food sources that have high water content

Carry a reusable water bottle when you go to school

Drink water during and after physical activity

Flavor your water with fruits and herbs

- Strawberry + basil leaves
- Cucumber + mint leaves
- Chopped apples + a cinnamon stick
- Raspberries (crushed) + cucumber
